Inspiring Change for a Sustainable Future

Join with like-minded individuals to learn practical, actionable strategies for living a waste-free lifestyle and discover the connection between faith and stewardship

The Climate Justice Working Group are thrilled to invite you to our upcoming event, Inspiring Change for a Sustainable Future, on Saturday, 13th July 2024.

This half-day hybrid event is designed to inspire individuals and communities to take action towards a plastic-free future. Whether you join us in person or online, you'll gain practical insights and strategies to help you live a zero-waste lifestyle. This event is accessible to an audience from across the motu, ensuring everyone can participate and make a difference.

Why Attend?

Empowerment Through Practical Action: Learn practical, actionable strategies for living a zero-waste and plastic-free lifestyle. Our expert speakers will equip you with the tools and knowledge to make meaningful changes in your daily life and community, helping you take immediate steps towards sustainability.

Integrate Faith and Environmental Stewardship: Discover the deep connection between faith and environmental stewardship. Our event explores theological foundations and ethical considerations, inspiring faith-based communities to embrace sustainable practices and care for our planet as an integral part of their spiritual journey.

Attend a live stream with others at St John Methodist Church at 1pm

If you have notices for the Newsletter please email the Parish Office by Wednesday morning.
